Hello friends! My name is Pietro Addinga, I'm from Ficarra, a small town in the Nebrodi mountains, in the northeast of Sicily.

I attend the first year of the Language High School in Capo d'Orlando, a town on the coast.

My favourite hobbies are listening to music and playing football; in fact, in my free time I usually train or play videogames.

I like to be in the Erasmus project because I have not had the opportunity to learn more about other cultures yet, and I am curious to know new people from the world, who surely can make me better.

My motto is: "Every disadvantage can be exploited"

Hello everyone!

I decided to participate in this project because I would like to know the cultures of other peoples and meet new friends. I conclude my presentation with a motto that I hope will help those who are bullied: "Report the bully, you are not alone."
